The star blocks in general have a variety of stories, including how they were used on the Underground Railway to assist slaves escaping

- Lakota Star Quilts:

In Lakota culture, star quilts are highly valued and often used as gifts for special occasions like memorial feasts, celebrations, and weddings.

- "Give-Away" Tradition:

The star quilt is a symbol of respect, honor, and admiration, often given away as a gesture of these feelings.

- Morning Star:

The star quilt can also represent the Morning Star, a significant symbol in Native American traditions.

- In essence, the Feathered Star quilt pattern is a beautiful and intricate design with a rich history, holding both aesthetic and symbolic significance, particularly within the context of quilting traditions and Native American culture.
